Subs Sink 10 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP) — American submarines have sunk 10 more Japanese vessels, the Navy announced today.

The sinkings, reported in a communique, were in the Pacific and Far East areas.

The ships sunk were of types used in moving badly needed materials to Japanese garrisons throughout the Pacific area.

REAL, FIRST-HAND STORIES OF N. E. FIGHTERS—START IN NEXT MONDAY'S AMERICAN

Yanks Storm Cassino, Drive Toward Rome

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 8 (AP)—Victorious American troops massed around captured San Vittore today forming a spearhead which stormed the outer defenses of Cassino, 70 straight-line miles from Rome.

The fall of the fiercely-defended mountain village of San Vittore alongside the Via Casilina was disclosed yesterday by Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead. His dispatch from the front said San Vittore had been seized Thursday after a violent 40-hour house-to-house battle. The village is six miles from Cassino.

The capture was confirmed today in the headquarters communique, which said the Fifth Army had advanced all along a 10-mile front in the jagged hills on both sides of the road.

Even before this official announcement of the taking of San Vittore the Americans had smashed on in the direction of Cassino and were fighting in Giusto, a village half a mile north.

Across the peninsula, the Eighth Army engaged in strong patrol activity, today's communique said, while Allied bombers pounded the airfield at Perugia, central Italy, blasted an aircraft factory at Maribor, northern Yugoslavia, struck at railway yards at Fiume and lashed shipping off the Yugoslav coast.

U. S. RAID RUINS NAZI POISON GAS CITY

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—RAF Mosquito bombers, raiding Germany for the seventh consecutive night, hit targets in the western Reich last night without loss in the wake of a strong American daylight attack which Swedish reports said gave the chemical city of Ludwigshafen a "death blow."

The I. G. Farben poison gas works was blasted and the city "now looks completely flattened out," the reports said.

The paper said block-busters and incendiaries set giant fires which turned the town into "a sea of fire." These reports said the twin city of Mannheim was also struck.

One U. S. pilot described the daylight formations as "the largest number of American planes I have ever seen on one mission."

In yesterday's large-scale American operation, 42 German fighters were shot down.

Twelve United States bombers and seven fighters were lost.

Enemy opposition encountered in the operation generally was weak.

While the big American formation was penetrating into Germany, more than 750 other Allied war planes were delivering day-long attacks on the French invasion coast.

ALGIERS, Jan. 8 (INS)—Long distance air attacks against military objectives in Europe were resumed from the Mediterranean theater today with a large-scale Flying Fortress raid on a major factory in Maribor, Yugoslavia, near the Austrian border.

The factory at Maribor was turning out enemy aircraft. Three of 50 German fighter planes were shot down.

Another wave of Fortresses bombed the railway yards at Fiume.

Simultaneously, medium Mitchells attacked the airfield at Perugia. Marauders pounded railway communications north of Rome and the Lucca gasworks. Royal Air Force Kittyhawks flew over the Yugoslavian coast, attacking four vessels in the harbor of Makarska.

Big Rail Base Falls to Reds

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Kirovograd, industrial and rail center of the Dnieper bend, has been captured by the Russian army, Marshal Joseph Stalin announced today in an order of the day, broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor.

"Troops of the Second Ukrainian front, having broken through strong enemy defenses, today, Jan. 8, as the result of a bold enveloping movement, have occupied the large industrial city of the Ukraine, the city of Kirovograd, a most important enemy strongpoint," Stalin's announcement said.

RUSSIA—After a brief pause for breath, Russian offensive again moves forward, with Red troops taking Klesow and swinging within 12 miles of Sarney in the north; pressing down to battle for Konev which dominates the Krivoi Rog railroad in the Kiev sector, and seizing Kirovograd, Dnieper bend rail and industrial center.

Three Nazi tank divisions, one mechanized division and four infantry divisions (about 100,000 men) were routed during the four days of bitter fighting in the drive on the vital river bend stronghold, in which Soviet forces advanced from 19 to 31 miles and widened the breach in the German lines to 75 miles, the announcement said.

224 CANNON TO BOOM

The city, which has been the chief center of resistance in the Germans' attempt to hold their Dnieper river bend line, lies on the Kremenchug-Odessa railway line and is the hub of the transportation system within the bend.

A Swedish correspondent writing from Berlin only a short time before Premier Stalin announced the city's fall said the "Russian steamroller has developed its peak of power within the past 24 hours.

"A more powerful concentration of troops than that reported first in the Zhitomir and Cherkasy areas and then at Kirovograd can hardly be imagined."

The advance may force the Nazis to fall all the way back to Odessa, naval base 40 miles from the old Rumanian border.

Stalin ordered 224 cannon to boom out 20 salvos in Moscow tonight as a salute to Gen. Konev's victorious forres.

CAPTURE OTHER CITIES

Earlier from Moscow, Associated Press Correspondent Cassidy reported Russian forces that captured Klesow were plunging deeper into Rovno province, old Poland, and had reached a point 12 miles from Sarny. Farther south, Cassidy said, Red forces lunged to within 18 miles of Dolinovka, rail junction which feeds Krivoi Rog.

Troops of Gens. Vatutin and Konev, which have joined south of Kiev, meanwhile were within striking distance of Kanev, 64 miles southeast of the Ukrainian capital.

In the Kiev offensive, the Soviet southwestward drive in which new Soviet successes were reported west and south of Berdichev and along the Shepetovka railway was tightening a noose about Vinnitsa from three sides.

Rumanians Flee Advancing Reds

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 8 (AP)—Rumania has begun a hasty dismantling of factories in the frontier towns of Cernauti, Chisinau and other places in the northern province of Bucovina and the eastern province of Bessarabia, a Budapest dispatch to the Basler Nachrichten said today.

Increasingly threatened by Soviet advances which are within about 50 miles of the old Rumanian frontier, the Rumanian government has ordered the machinery of as many factories as possible to be moved to the interior behind mountains, the dispatch said.

The evacuation measures extended throughout Bessarabia and Bucovina, with peasant carts loaded high with goods blocking the roads in flight into the interior. The peasants were said to be driving long columns of cattle before them.

Wealthy Rumanians abroad were said to be convinced the Russian advance means the end of their fortunes, but their fears were as nothing compared to those still in Rumania where there was panic selling of real estate.

U. S. Stands Pat On Bolivia View

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The revolutionary government in Bolivia is sending another representative to Washington, although Sec. Hull has indicated chances for United States recognition are slim.

Fernando Iturralde Chinel, minister of information and now undersecretary of foreign affairs in the new regime of Maj. Gual Berto Villarroel, is the man chosen to bring new Bolivian views to the United States.

Hull has already said, however, that sufficient information about the origins of the revolt that ousted President Enrique Penaranda Dec. 20 has been gathered to strengthen the belief that anti-Allied influence played an important part.

Yanks Softening Up Kavieng, Japs' Base

By FRANK ROBERTSON

MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, Jan. 8 (INS)—Another mighty Allied air assault on Jap-held Kavieng—the 17th in as many nights—indicated today, the Allies were giving New Ireland depot the full force of a pre-invasion "softening up."

Gen. MacArthur's communique, indicated a general lull in ground activity on New Guinea and New Britain.

A series of heavy assaults carried out by the Fifth U. S. Air Force ranged far and wide throughout the islands north and east of Australia. But interest focused upon the Kavieng assault.

Night reconnaissance units came upon an enemy cargo ship and a destroyer escort northwest of Cape Matanalem. Both were bombed effectively. Meantime, an air patrol operating out of Solomons bases "severely damaged" an inter-island steamer near Mussau island.

SYDNEY, Jan. 8 (INS)—United States Marines on the Cape Gloucester beachhead have taken the offensive and are forcing the Japanese back into the sea, dispatches to Sydney disclosed today.

Nazi Blockade Runner Sunk

RIO DE JANIERO, Brazil, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Brazilian government news agency service Agencia Nacional announced from Recife today that combined units of the Brazilian and United States fleets sank a German blockade runner in the South Atlantic recently.

The news agency, quoting Capt. C. E. Blaine, chief of staff of the United States South Atlantic fleet at Recife, said patrols located the ship, which was carrying war supplies to Germany from Japan, after an intensive search by both the Brazilian and United States fleets and their aviation units.

Hitler Youth Create Nazi Reign of Terror

MADRID, Jan. 8 (AP)—A neutral engineer, who has just returned from Germany after completing a contract, said today the Hitler youth, "arrogant with new police power given them because of a manpower shortage," have created a reign of terror in the Reich.

They denounce German adults right and left for anti-Nazi and pro-Allied sympathies, he said, and prisons are packed and executions increasing.

"The initials HJ (Hitler Jugend) have become a symbol of terror," the engineer said.

"Their own parents fear them—and with reason. Bombing and the threat of military defeat has frightened many older Nazis, but this seems only to have made these youths more arrogant, more Nazi, more bitter."

2 Nabbed After 2d Taxicab Kidnap

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Two Norfolk, Va., men who police said admitted they were the abductors of a Washington cab driver and his passenger and of another cab driver in Brooklyn, were seized today at an Eighth ave. movie theater.

The black sedan in which they were reported to have taken their captives on wild rides was found in an uptown parking lot.

The hunt for the men was spurred by the report of the second abduction. A Brooklyn cab driver told police two sleek, riding-togged bandits, who boasted of being the men who kidnaped the Washington couple, forced him into the sedan last night after relieving him of his ready cash.

FBI agents admitted the men had been arrested, but said no charge had been lodged against them as yet. The pair was held for questioning, pending the preferment of charges against them, police reported.

CABBIE KIDNAPED

Police said the cab driver, Paul Caulford, 37, told them he was pursued last night for a half mile by the black sedan, forced from his car and into the back of the sedan at the point of a gun. They said he was taken through the Holland tunnel, into Jersey City and back to New York again on a mad round trip, and was forced to sit on the floor of the car as it approached the George Washington Bridge toll gate. On the New York side of the bridge, police said the cabbie was released and ordered to go away "without looking back."

Thursday night two men singing boogie-woogie songs and casually threatening death to their two Washington prisoners, had carried Miss Mercedes Platt, 25, and Herman Corman, 22, on a 250-mile ride from the Washington airport to South Brooklyn, where they said they were going to "see a sick friend." There they released their captives, terror-stricken but unharmed after the 12-hour escapade.

WOMAN ROBBED

Miss Platt, a receptionist in the United States Embassy in Havana, said she was en route from Toronto after a ten-day leave, when she climbed into Corman's taxi at the Washington airport.

She said she thought nothing of two other passengers who climbed into the taxi at the same time, but after the car had gone about a mile the passengers—two short stocky men about 30 years old—whipped out pistols and robbed them.

Snow to Follow In Wake of Cold Snap Here

Frigid temperatures today and more snow tomorrow were in store for Greater Boston in the wake of the storm which was blamed for seven deaths as it blanketed New England to a depth of more than two feet in many places.

The mercury dropped to 16 in Boston this morning and went much lower in interior sections, and was expecteted to be around 18 tonight.

It is expected snow will start falling around noon tomorrow in Boston.

Panhandle and Oklahoma Blanketed in Snow

By the Associated Press

Virtually all of Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle were snowbound today after one of the worst winter storms in the southwest in years.

Temperatures plummeted to as low as two degrees below zero at Guymon, Oklahoma, and snow falls of 12 inches were reported from the nearby Texas Panhandle a- drifts piled up to six feet

Boy Burglary Ring in Court

In a move for rehabilitation of the four Dorchester teen-age boys who went on a wild spending spree after allegedly stealing $8900 in cash and jewelry from the grandmother of one, two of them were sent to Psychopathic Hospital for observation, Judge Richard M. Walsh in Dorchester court turned another lad over to his mother and the fourth was held in $500 bond.

Harold G. Doherty, 17, of Dorchester ave., and a juvenile companion were ordered to the hospital.

A 15-year-old boy was remanded to the custody of his mother, and 17-year-old William Alther, of Dorchester ave., whose wealthy grandmother was the victim of the theft, was held in bond on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Brought back from Maine, where they were captured, the four in court were charged with theft of $3900 in cash and $5000 worth of gems from a smashed safe in the Dorchester Center home of Mrs. Delia V. Curran.

Police of the Fields Corner and Mattapan stations said the youthful quartet was one of two groups comprising the largest-scale outbreak of juvenile burglaries in Dorchester's history.

Six lads in a second group were booked as suspicious persons today, while at least one was sought charged with nearly 40 burglaries in three months. This group, made up of "model youngsters" all under 16, were said by Mattapan officers to have looted stores and homes of goods valued at thousands of dollars.

Police quoted the boys as saying they went to bed early nights, then slipped out to engage in their escapades, unknown to their parents. Disposing of their loot at 10 per cent of its value, they spent their "profits" on shows, candy and roller-skating parties with girl friends.

Powell-Blondell Divorce Looms

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8—Joan Blondell, one of the best loved actresses in Hollywood, has been lying desperately ill for two weeks from nervous exhaustion. From an unimpeachable source I learn as soon as Joan is well she will file suit for divorce from Dick Powell. He is in New York and arrives here next week-end. Joan has retained Judge Lester Roth, but she does not want to make the break until she has discussed it with Dick.

I talked with her as long as her nurse would permit and she would make no comment, begging me not to make her commit herself. She did not deny, however, that her marriage to Powell, popular tenor, is at an end.

There have been rumors for some time that all was not well with the Powells. She went East to appear in Mike Todd's show, "The Naked Genius," which opened in Boston, while Powell remained here. She hoped the separation might change conditions, but apparently it did not solve their problems.

Joan married Dick, Sept. 19, 1936, when he was one of the stars of the popular Hollywood Hotel radio show and she was one of the best known comediennes on the screen. They were both under contract to Warners and met at the studio, where they appeared in the same pictures.

Friends of Joan and Dick, especially those of us who were at their wedding and watched their romance grow, are sorry over this break.

AEF on Split Shift, Some Home in 1944

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The War Department has adopted a troop rotation policy "which should assure" that by mid-1944 all soldiers in Alaska and the Caribbean areas with two years of overseas service will be returned to the United States, Sen. Reynolds (D.) of North Carolina said today.

Reynolds, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, reported the rotation outlook in other areas as follows:

NORTH AFRICA — Plans have been instituted to return monthly a limited number of men with more than 18 months' overseas service.

SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—"It is anticipated that the present difficulties in returning men from these theaters of operation will be overcome in the spring of 1944, and that a system will be put into effect to return a certain number of men to the United States."

EUROPEAN—"Up to the present time men in this theater, other that those in the air crews, have not been subject to combat fatigue and stress, and the climatic conditions do not necessitate a change, and therefore no system has been established for this theater for the rotation of troops to the homeland. As the situation changes in the European theater a system will be put into effect."

AIR CREW PERSONNEL: "The rotation of air crew personnel serving overseas in all theaters has been established and is functioning satisfactorily."

Reynold' report was prompted by an inquiry by Senator Connally (D.) of Texas. Reynolds sent copies of his reply to all members of the Senate.

He said the problem had been given constant study by the general staff but he pointed out that there are many difficulties to be overcome.

He added: "The general staff of the Army has realized from the outset that our combat soldiers who might experience combat fatigue and stress should be returned home as soon as possible, and with that in mind have been constantly planning for the release of such men when it is possible to replace them. The present deterring factors previously mentioned make it undesirable to prescribe a definite tour of service which a soldier should serve overseas before being replaced and returned home. Through efforts now being made it is anticipated that the present difficulties will disappear."

FREED—Testimony that her husband, Kenneth Dolan, stayed out all night and kept her in a nervous state for four of their five years of marriage, won a divorce in Los Angeles for Film Actress Shirley Ross.

W. K. Vanderbilt Dies of Heart Attack at 65

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—William Kissam Vanderbilt, 65, director and former president of the New York Central R. R. and one of the nation's foremost yachtsmen, died today of a heart ailment.

He was one of the wealthiest men in the United States and a great-grandson of Commdr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of both the railroad and the Vanderbilt family fortune.

With his brother Harold he was a residuary legatee in the $56,000,000 estate left by his father.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mrs. Rosamond Lancaster Warburton; his brother Harold, his daughters Muriel and Consuelo, and a sister. Mrs. Jacques Balsan, former Duchess of Marlborough.

When motoring was in its infancy Vanderbilt amused himself for a while as a racing driver and built the Long Island Motor Parkway, 60 miles of toll highway, which he later donated as a public road.

For private consumption, Vanderbilt wrote books on his trips by plane and yacht. His latest yacht, The Alva, was built at an estimated cost of $2,500,000.

When the present war broke out Vanderbilt gave The Alva to the government.

Brighton Center Livens Teen Life

New opportunities for dances, social gatherings, participation in sports and similar types of wholesome recreation were made available to 'teen-age boys and girls in Brighton today following the opening of Boston's fifth youth center at the Taft School, Cambridge and Warren sts.

A highlight of the opening exercises, held in the gymnasium of Brighton High School because of the large crowd of more than 400 young people present, was the proposal that the scope of the Massachusetts Youth Committee movement be broadened to provide recreation for youths in the armed services as well as for those still in school.

Students from Brighton High, Thomas A. Edison Junior High and William H. Taft Junior High School met with their faculty members and the Boston School Committee to dedicate the new youth center.

"We think meetings of the Center should be opened to servicemen home on leave, so that they could tell of their experiences in the war," Lenore C. McHugh, representative of the Thomas A. Edison Junior High School, declared.

Another junior high school youngster, Anne Leone, told the meeting that the Youth Center was a "refuge for youth in these times of destruction, so that it becomes our purpose to preserve youth, not demolish it."

The meeting was attended by all five members of the Boston School Committee, Chairman Patrick J. Foley, Joseph C. White, Michael J. Ward, Daniel J. McDeavitt and Clement A. Norton, and was presided over by Asst. Supt of Schools Dennis C. Haley.

Present also were James A. Leary, headmaster of Brighton High School and Sidney Northcott and George Gammon, principals of the two junior high schools,

Proving that they are ready to provide their own recreational activities, entertainment at the meeting was furnished by the Brighton high school students' orchestra, glee club and girls' quartet and Laura Freeman, talented young singer.

600 Airmen Mourn Missing Yank Ace

By FRED HAMPSON

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, Jan. 4 (delayed) (AP)—The skipper didn't get back. The news spread like the chill wind from revetment to the "ready room" to the tent camp on the hill. The war stood still for a hundred pilots and 500 ground crewmen.

For Maj. Gregory Boyington, leader of the marine's "Blacksheep Squadron," had failed to return from a mission during which he shot down his 26th enemy plane to tie the all-time American record.

Three accompanying pilots saw the 31year-old Okanogan, Wash., ace send his 26th spinning down yesterday in a ball of fire into St. George's channel, the gateway to Raubaul, New Britain.

Maj. Boyington was due to complete his Solomons tour of duty in a few days and return to the United States.

Lieut. M. B. Miller then saw Boyington and Wingman Capt. G. M. Ashmun dive on a formation of Zeros. "They disappeared below a cloud," he said. "I don't see how Greg could have missed getting one or more, but I never saw him afterward."

At 31, the grandpappy of Pacific fighter pilots, this boisterous, hard-living, instinctive fighter was looking forward to ending his tour of duty in a week and returning home to "get acquainted again" with his three children.

A week ago he leaned across the messhall table and bellowed, "sure I want that record (of 26 planes downed); who the hell wouldn't? I'd like to make it 35!"

Boyington chose his friends without regard for rank, and once was grounded for his easy attitude toward discipline—but he was too good to keep down.

Once at Kahili on Bougainville the Japanese found the Allied fighters' radio wave length, and a servile voice said:

"Maj. Boyington, what is your position, please?"

Recognizing the ruse, Boyington retorted:

"Right over your damn airport —why don't you yellow bellies come up and fight?"

"Maj. Boyington. why don't you come down?" came the sibilant Japanese voice.

Boyington and his wingman went down through the heavy anti-aircraft fire, strafed two gun positions and a couple of Zeros on the ground and shot up to higher altitude.

"Ali right, you ——, I was down," yelled Boyington. "Now how about you coming up?"

New England Appeals For Veterans Pile Up

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—The insistent voice of New England today continued to speak loudly in behalf of mustering-out pay for discharged servicemen as returning congressional leaders planned to give top priority to that worthy legislation when Congress re-convenes on Monday.

Telegrams by the hundreds poured in from all parts of New England. They came from heads of veterans and labor organizations, friends and relatives of veterans and from many others who know the veteran of Warld War II deserves more than he ever can be paid.

One of them was the following plea from Joseph A. Salerno, president of the Massachusetts CIO:

"As president of the Massachusetts CIO, I strongly urge you to act immediately to give mustering-out pay to men and women being discharged from the military services.

"Let these men who have outlived their usefulness as fighting men return home with self respect, and not with a tin cup in their hands. There already has been too much delay. By your inaction, you have been heaping coals on the heads of men who risked their lives and asked nothing more than that America keep faith with them. Keep that faith. Vote for mustering-out pay now."

Joseph Salerno

Another telegram to Congress was the following from P. Harry Jennings, New England organizer of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters:

"Congress owes the nation speedy action in providing mustering out pay for our honorably discharged service men and women. They've done their duty—and Congress must do its duty without further delay.

Meanwhile, every member of Congress awaited the promised reporting of a bill by Rep. Andrew J. May, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee. The bill is expected Tuesday morning, but there was no doubt that Congress was ready to fight hard and long unless it provides an adequate amount for the veterans.

Mrs. Rogers Flays Veterans' Hospitals

LOWELL, Jan. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (R.), from the fifth Massachusetts district, said today she would return to Washington Monday prepared to open a campaign "for the return to Congress of the authority over planning and direction of hospitals to care for war veterans."

Mrs. Rogers declared veterans' hospitals at Bedford and Northampton were overcrowded, and charged the federal board for hospitalization, "headed by Gen. George E. Ijams of the Veterans' Administration, has totally failed to provide for present needs."

"There is no comprehensive, long-ragne plan for Massachusetts or for the country as a whole, so far as I can learn," Mrs. Rogers said. "This is in spite of the fact that we are at war on two fronts against two of the most desperate nations on earth.

"It is no more than decent that we assure the parents of our boys of adequate hospital care and medical treatment when it is needed. Promises are not enough. The federal government must be prepared to carry out these promises."

Woman Saved From Bay

You'd hardly call a day like today an ideal one for a person to go wading.

That's why a group of soldiers stationed at new Camp McKay, near Columbia cir., did a double-take as they noticed Miss Nora O'Connell, 43, of Amory st., Roxbury, wading out into Dorchester bay.

Two of the soldiers whom the Army authorities declined to identify, plunged in after her and pulled her out. After treatment by a medical officer of the Boston Port of Embarkation, the woman was taken to City Hospital, suffering from immersion. Doctors could not learn immediatly the reason for her act.

Liquor Dealers Here To Face Grand Jury

A number of wholesale and retail liquor dealers here are due for federal grand jury action in connection with violation of the anti-trust act and OPA regulations, it was revealed today.

Government agents, operating in Boston and outlying cities, have uncovered numerous violations by which package stores have been compelling customers to buy a cheap brand of wine as a "tie-in" with the sale of whiskies and other liquors. Many others have been found to be violating the new price ceilings.

Strike Still Ties Cramp Shipyard

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Ordered to return to work by Navy Secretary Knox, the national head of their union, and the War Labor Board, 17,000 striking workers at the Cramp Shipbuilding Co. remained idle today pending a meeting of the general membership tomorrow afternoon.

High union officials predicted the demands made by Sec. Knox, President John L. Green and the WLB would end the strike—but not before Monday.

In one of the sharpest rebukes ever administered to wartime strikers by a labor leader, Green, national president of the industrial union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (CIO), said that any member failing to return "will be aiding the enemies of our union and the country . . ."

Mrs. Daniel Roper Dies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, 73, widow of the former Secretary of Commerce, died late last night after an illness of several months.

A PAL CALLS—Convalescing from a bad shrapnel wound in his head, Dick Tregaskis, Guadalcanal Diary author and former Record-American-Advertiser reporter, is cheered by a visit from a college pal, Lieut. John E. Wheldon of Newton, at a base hospital in Italy. Dick is now en route home.

Hero of 50 Air Raids Takes Bride Here

A radioman on a Flying Fortress—veteran of 50 missions over Africa, Italy, Sicily, and the Mediterranean—today went on his 51st and most important mission of all—his wedding to the girl he had to leave at home while he served 10 months overseas.

Tech. Sergt. John A. McMahon, 24, son of Mrs. Margaret McMahon of Worthington st., Roxbury, wearing the Air Medal and nine Oak Leaf Clusters, was married to Joan O'Brien, 22, of St. Rose st., Jamaica Plain, daughter of Mrs. Marie O'Brien and the late Francis A. O'Brien, former master of the Grover Cleveland School in Dorchester.

The nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain, by Monsignor William Casey.

The bride, a graduate of Kathleen Dell School, wore a tailored green wool dress with a hat of flowers and a corsage of lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Virginia O'Brien, was maid of honor and wore a yellow wool dress with a corsage of orchids.

Sergt. McMahon's best man was his classmate at Boston College and president of the class of '42, Paul Maguire of Silloway st., Dorchester.

After a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Statler, the couple left for a honeymoon in New York city and Atlantic City, where the bridegroom will receive his next assignment for duty.

Navy Saves 30 in Crash

With six New Englanders among the first 30 rescued, additional survivors of the sunken Navy patrol boat St. Augustine were awaited hourly today at Cape May, N. J., Naval Base Hospital.

Bodies of 30 men have been brought ashore and identified at the Cape May Coast Guard station, Lieut. Daniel J. Bergen of the Fourth Naval District Public Relations Office said here today.

Names of the dead will be withheld, he stated, until their next of kin have been notified.

The St. Augustine, once a $1,250,000 yacht used by the heiress, Barbara Hutton, went to the bottom after collision with a merchant ship 60 miles off Cape May, according to announcement by the Fourth Naval District.

The six New Englanders reported as safe were Joseph E. Brown, 27, yeoman 3/c, of Ellet st., Dorchester; Joseph Silva, 25, electrician's mate 2/c, of Portsmouth, R. I.; Louis Christofforo, 24, machinist's mate 2/c, of Leominster; Walter Copley, coxswain, of Fall River; John Christofforo, machinist's mate 1/c, Providence, R. I. and Warren Harris, yeoman 2/c, of Danvers.

WIFE'S DEATH KEEPS HOOVER IN SECLUSION

NEW YORG, Jan. 8 (INS)—Former President Hoover remained in seclusion today following the sudden death of his wife last night in their apartment in Waldorf Towers. She was 68.

An acute heart attack caused her death. She had just returned to the apartment from a concert, and seemed in good health and the best of spirits when stricken.

The former president, who had been preparing to leave for a dinner appointment, was at her bedside when she passed away. Their two sons, Allan, a California rancher, and Herbert, Jr., a radio engineer, were notified immediately.

Later a spokesman for Hoover said funeral services would be conducted Monday at 11 a. m. in St. Bartholomew's with the Rev. George Paull T. Sargent, the pastor, officiating. Burial will be private.

The passing of the wife of the nation's 31st Chief Executive left only five surviving wives of former Presidents. They were Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, and the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland, now Mrs. Thomas J. Preston.

$12,000 Fire In Hingham

Threatening the entire Hingham business district, flames today raged through all three floors of the wooden Loud Block in Hingham sq., causing damage estimated at $12,000.

The blaze finally was brought under control with aid from Hull and Cohasset and the fire fighting companies from the Bethlehem-Hingham shipyard and the Hingham Ammunition Depot. Two alarms were sounded.

Starting in the second floor Legion quarters of the Edward Ball Cole Post, the fire raged through other Legion rooms on the third floor and burst through the roof.

Embers showered on nearby business blocks, including the adjoining Hingham Journal newspaper building, which suffered water damage.

Also badly damaged were the Loud Package Goods store and the Old Ship Galley, a restaurant, both on the ground floor of the Loud Block.

Fire Chief Albert Kimball said the blaze apparently started in a second floor wash room and gave the cause as undetermined.

Boost Your Charm in '44

Beauty

'TIS SAID that resolutions are made to be broken . . . But, not so with determined Woman, insisting upon achieving distinction of face and figure and personality in days to come.

We wish and wish . . . for so many things . . . but, when we back up our wish with a mental decision and firmness . . . with dogged persistence and regularity . . . usually the end justifies the means . . . and, we realize our deepest and fondest yearnings.

'Twas decreed . . . perhaps in the stars . . . that Woman should be the happy combination of graces and charms pleasing to the eye . . . gratifying to the esthetic sense . . . an inspiration of physical loveliness.

One of the country's most noted beauticians . . . whose own new year list of resolutions is headed with a resolve to bring more beauty and health into the lives of women everywhere . . . has vital suggestions for the everyday woman as a guide to her own beauty destiny.

HERE ARE YOUR BEAUTY RESOLUTIONS

So let us women resolve . . . in accordance with this famous authority's dictates:

To face 1944 with a shining face reflecting good health and good grooming until Johnny comes marching home.

To put into practice the things we always MEANT to do to attain this look.

To keep our skin immaculately clean and healthy . . . by washing with beauty grains . . . and daily cleansing with a thorough face cream.

To "animate" our skin to glorious morning radiance . . . with a stimulating wake-up cream . . . before applying make-up.

To fortify ourselves with rich emollient creams . . . to protect our skin in harsh and freezing temperature . . . and to ward off tell-tale mementos of strain or neglect.

To gain "dewy" and luminous-looking skin . . . by using a light creamy foundation that holds make-up intact for hours.

To vie with the beauties of Latin America . . . and improve our eyes by exercising them . . . using a herbal eye bath . . . massaging the area around them gently with an eye cream . . . selecting the correct eye shadow . . . and applying it skilfully.

These and many more resolves could be included in the beauty ritual of every woman if she is to lift herself and her beauty out of the realm of humdrum and casual . . . and make of them both loving, breathing distinctions applicable to a real personality.

TO PUT INTO PRACTICE the things we always MEANT to do . . . to attain the lovely look of Columbia Star Anita Louise . . . should be every woman's 1944 resolution . . . never to be broken. This and many other beauty resolves . . . will keep your face a reflection of good health and good grooming . . . until Johnny comes marching home.

Fashion

They're Comfy For Walking

"TIMBER-TOPPERS" . . . something for the girls . . . is a "war-baby" on the fashion front . . . because of the leather shortage. Pretty Helene Reynolds . . . 20th Century-Fox starlet . . . models a pair . . . comfy for walking . . . with soles of hard cherry and maple woods . . . cut against the grain . . . and diced in tiny squares to make them give to the slightest foot action. The entire sole is water-repellent . . . and is supposed to be more flexible than rubber.

F. D. TO SEEK UNIVERSAL SERVICE LAW?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Army and Navy Journal said today it expects President Roosevelt to recommend to Congress next week legislation instituting universal service.

Contending that the only way for this country to counter German propaganda that strikes are evidence of war-weariness in the United States is "prompt institution of universal service," the Journal added:

"And we shall rely upon Congress to enact it without delay."

The unofficial service publication said editorially Gen. George C. Marshall "spoke from an angered heart when, during a special press conference called on last Friday (Dec. 31), he is reported to have said the railroad and steel strike threats were a great tragedy and the damnedest crime ever committed against America."

Marshall, the Journal said, had received "comprehensive reports of our intelligence officers and those of our Allies" that the Axis was using the rail and steel strike threats in prepoganda directed to the peoples of Germany and the satellite countries.

U. S. Aide Dies in China

MEDWAY, Jan. 8 (AP)—John L. Keenan, 54, connected with the division of cultural relations of the State Department, died in Kuning, China, Jan. 5, according to word received here today by his sister, Mrs. Grace Sherry.

Boston Tribute to Allies To Be Paid in Monday Parade

Boston's greatest demonstration of tribute to peoples of United Nations who are battling the Axis in occupied territories will be staged Monday morning when a colorful parade will proceed through the main downtown streets.

Ten divisions of the procession will represent 10 of the "Unconquerables," those nations which refused to yield to the Nazi invaders, while many Army and Navy units, color guards and nine military bands will add to the spectacle, one of several events preliminary to the start of the Fourth War Loan drive.

A high point of the demonstration will come when the procession passes the Jordan Marsh Co., which with the Saturday Evening Post is jointly sponsoring the parade. Magnificently arranged window displays, honoring each of the "Unconquerables," will be uncovered to public view as the parade goes by.

Leading the parade will be the Rangoon Ramblers, Gen. Chenneault's famed flying fighters from Asia. Several heroes of the present war, including Maj. Allen V. Martini, will also march. Thomas A. Pappas will be chief marshal.

The numerous events being sponsored by the Jordan Marsh Co. to launch the fourth war loan campaign will start tonight with a $1000-a-plate "Unconquerables" dinner at the Copley Plaza Hotel.

Gov. Saltonstall has accepted the post of vice-chairman of the fourth war loan drive in Massachusetts. In announcing the Governor's acceptance, General Chairman F. Winchester Denio said the goal of $258,000,000 is the greatest ever set for any kind of fund in the state's history.

way junction of Zhmerinka, lies 20 miles northeast of Zhmerinka and less than 50 miles from the Dniester river. (The Dniester forms the prewar Rumanian border.)

Gen. Konev's tanks were reported in front line dispatches to be creating panic along the rear of the Nazi Ukrainian forces, with German communications reported to have been reduced to congested bottlenecks.

The entire German position was described as shaping up as one of the most disastrous in Hitler's Russian campaign.

"Retreating under the blows of Soviet troops, the routed enemy formations are abandoning their military equipment and supplies," said a Moscow communique. "A large number of prisoners has been taken."

Poles Doubtful If They Can Agree With Russia

LONDON, Jan. 8 (AP)—A reconciliation with Russia was viewed as increasingly doubtful by Poles in London today and one Polish spokesman expressed the belief Polish guerrillas, even though they fought the Germans, would be taken prisoner as the Red army plunged deeper into old Poland.

Declaring the Polish government considered eastern and western territorial questions separately, a spokesman also said Poland was unwilling to give up territory in the east in return for promises of compensation at Germany's expense in the west.

Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk is expected to confer soon with Pres. Edouard Benes of the Czechoslovak government-in-exile, but a Polish spokesman said he was pessimistic about chances for a Russo-Polish agreement stemming from this meeting.

Anti-Nazi Propaganda In Berlin Jibes Hitler

BARCELONA, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Germans started evacuating Polish and Russian prisoners from the eastern part of old Poland and from East Prussia as soon as the Red army plunged across the old Polish border, according to information from inside Germany.

Polish guerrillas were said to have attacked German troops evacuating Poles from a prison camp near Vilna and to have freed 200.

Philadelphia Strike Of 3000 Called Off

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Union leaders called off a two-day strike of 3000 public works employes after Mayor Bernard Samuel promised to "make every effort" to obtain a wage increase for them.

Spokesmen for three locals of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL), said the men would be ordered back on the job immediately.

British Sink 2 Subs

LONDON, Jan. 8 (INS)—The admiralty announced today British sloops detected and sank two enemy submarines in eight hours northwest of the Azores.

Gov. Warren GOP Candidate

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 8 (AP)—Gov. Warren today acceded to a request of California Republican organization leaders that he allow his name to be used as a Republican candidate for President at the state primary election in May.

"I arrive at this conclusion," the governor wrote to the party heads, "with full appreciation of the fact that the perilous times in which we are living make the coming convention one of the most important in our history. If it is to fulfill its true purpose in our national life it will require the most unselfish and patriotic service on the part of all who participate in its deliberations."

Leaders Praise Aid To War Wounded

Following are some more telegrams sent to Willia Randolph Hearst congratulating the Hearst papers for their aid to wounded war veterans:

W. R. HEARST:

The huge sums of money received by Hearst newspapers all over the nation show how the American people feel about their maimed and wounded. Individually, we've felt that way since the beginning, but to the Hearst papers we owe the opportunity of proving as a group what we have vainly tried to prove earlier as individuals.

AL BAPTIST, 8th Dist. Comdr., American Legion, S. F.

W. R. HEARST:

Your faith in America never has been just merely so many words but by deeds and fights you have conducted. Your newspaper campaign on behalf of our war wounded is just another of the really worthwhile movements you direct for your country. To say that it was great is certainly mildly expressing it. God be with you for your remembrances of those boys who gave so much.

TERRENCE W. FIELDS, Comdr., Sportsmans Post No. 99, American Legion, Sa Francisco.

W. R. HEARST:

Your newspapers' ampaign in behalf of the veterans is truly American. The lge sum of money your newspapers raised to bring Christmas chr into the lives of the boys who have given so much is the first tep, I hope, in a larger campan to bring lasting benefits from a grateful nation. Well done.

MAYOR ANGELO ROSSI, San Francisco.

W. R. HEARST:

I hardly can find words to adequately express my feeling for what you and your newspapers have done for our war wounded at this Christmas ime. It is without question te greatest piece of work that hs been done for our fighting men to date.

MAJ. LOUIS T. GIANT, Director Amerian Legion Service Department and Adjutant Treasure Disabled War Veterans, San Francisco.

SIX-FOOT BEAUTY Lois De Fee heads the glamor lineup at the Old Howard, while the famous Mike Sacks tops the aggregation of comics on this week's burlesque bill.

PAT MORGAN, one of charmers on Globe burlesque stage this week . . . she shares honors with Carol Lord and a sparkling array of comedians, beauties and vaudevillians.

LOIS DeFEE HOWARD STAR

America's most junoesque burlesque queen, Lois DeFee, is the headliner on the beauty front of the Old Howard's new burlesque bill, which is here until next Friday.

Mike Sacks, king of the comics, is co-starred with Lois, while the supporting cast is headed by Jean Hayes and curvaceous Beverly Lane.

Other comedians in the program are Shuffles Levan, soubrette Alice Kennedy and Murray Briscoe, the high-hat funster. Vaudeville acts include Vera Austin, dancer; Munroe and Adams, juggling experts; Garolis and Ben Hamilton. Screen features are "Kit Carson," "Road Show" and news.

Carol Lord in Globe Revue

Opening at a minute past midnight Sunday night at the Globe Theater will be a new and very gay burlesque bill, headed by Carol Lord, known as "Mlle. Magnifique", and Pat Morgan, another headline beauty.

The drollery department is in the hands of Jack Diamond, "the dizzy dunce", Jack Lamont, billed as "loose and looney", and comics Ethel Deveaux, George Rose and others. Vaudeville specialties include Bea Hayden, acrobatic dancer; Joe Kelso, juggling wonder; Roy and Carol, and emcee Conny Ryan.

There are two full length film features and latest newsreels.

'Peepshow' Premiere Tickets Now on Sale

Seats are now on sale at the Plymouth Theater box office for the world premiere and subsequent performances of Ernest Pascal's "Peepshow." The premiere will take place on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11, and the distinguished cast includes John Emery, Tamara Geva, David Wayne, Mary Howard, Dwight Weist, Edward Broadley, Elizabeth Dewing, Fred Manzella and Lionel Monagas.

War Veterans Must Have Adequate Laws

GENERAL FRANK T. HINES, administrator of veterans' affairs in Washington, D. C., has challenged statements made in the United States House of Representatives by Congressman Walter C. Ploeser of Missouri on November 11, 1943.

Furthermore, General Hines has taken exception to an editorial titled "The Unwanted Battalion," which Congressman Ploeser's remarks inspired.

A letter signed by General Hines says in part:

"My attention has been invited to a newspaper article appearing in the Detroit Times of Nov. 30, 1943, under the heading 'The Unwanted Battalion.' The article refers to a specific case cited by Cong. Walter C. Ploeser of Missouri relative to a veteran of World War II who lost his right leg in Tunisia, was discharged from Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., and, lacking money for food, shelter and railroad fare home, was furnished temporary shelter by a lady in Washington, D. C.; that he was taken to the Veterans' Bureau, where he received assurance that his case would be adjudicated as rapidly as possible, which meant 60 or perhaps 120 days.

"The case referred to is apparently that of Mr. Troy Lucas, C-3,376,511. Mr. Lucas was discharged from the active service at the Walter Reed General Hospital on Oct. 4, 1943, and filed his application for pension at that time. The medical records were assembled by the military authorities and transmitted to the Veterans' Administration on Oct. 29, 1943. The claim was rated on that date and service connection granted. Disability was evaluated as 60 per cent in degrees, and the award, including the special monthly pension of $55 for the loss of one foot, was approved in the amount of $95 per month. Mr. Lucas was informed of the decision immediately and the award certified to the disbursing office on Nov. 5, 1943. Initial payment was made on Nov. 9, 1943 . . ."

If General Hines had examined the Congressional Record of December 15, 1943, he would have noted on Page 10829 that Congressman Ploeser said:

"My speech contains the information that the Troy Lucas case had been adjudicated and it had been done by the influence of the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. John McCormack), to whom I sent Troy Lucas. It is so stated in the speech and so stated by me on November 11, and the date he received his compensation was November 9."

On Page 10835 of the same edition of the Congressional Record, General Hines would have found this additional statement by Congressman Ploeser:

"These considerations have all come about since November 11, since the pressure has been put on to try to bring action. FOR TWO YEARS THERE HAS BEEN DELAY."

And if General Hines had read an earlier edition of the Congressional Record—the one dated December 6, 1943, he would have seen on Page 10438 this censure of his department's conduct by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, whom Senators and Representatives frequently call "The War Veterans' Best Friend."

Said Mrs. Rogers:

"I think we have passed laws for the disabled . . . However, the Veterans' Administration has been absolutely asleep, and the laws have not been carried out."

IN SINGLING OUT the case of Troy Lucas as a vehicle for criticism, General Hines neglected to explain why Troy Lucas considered it expedient to solicit the support of Congressman Ploeser, the chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and the House Majority Leader in getting his case acted upon by the Veterans' Administration.

If General Hines had perused the Congressional Record of November 11, 1943, he would have found this discussion of the political influence exercised in behalf of the Troy Lucas case.

The debate on Page 9525 reads as follows:

"MR. PLOESER. May I say in regard to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. McCormack) that while I condemn the leadership for not having taken action long ago, the gentleman was the man who did get this individual situation to which I have referred corrected quickly. I want to say to the gentleman that I cannot hope to have him, as the Democratic leader of this House, spend his time doing an individual case job for the millions more to come.

"MR. McCORMACK. I remember the case, because the same lady brought the young man in to see me.

"MR. PLOESER. This case is an EXAMPLE. This is just ONE BOY. Every time a man or woman is discharged from the armed services, either now or after the war, they have to rehabilitate themselves . . .

"MR. McCORMACK. He (Troy Lucas) was concerned with trying to have his case expedited, a proper matter for any one of us to interest ourselves in in connection with expediting action on these matters.

"MR. PLOESER. The gentleman from Massachusetts did a grand job. I am wondering if the gentleman is going to give his individual, personal attention to the millions of cases that come after.

"MR. McCORMACK. I will give my personal attention to any case concerning any veteran.

"MR. PLOESER. The gentleman is to be commended, I know that, but the gentleman will not live long enough to handle them all individually."

THE POINT which Congressman Ploeser tried to make clear and the point which General Hines apparently missed is that all servicemen cannot hope to have the individual attention of Washington matrons and Congressional leaders in getting their cases promptly considered by General Hines and his staff.

There is satisfaction in the knowledge that the publicity given the Troy Lucas case has resulted in the elimination of some of the red tape which frequently made the treatment of America's war veterans a national disgrace before Congressman Ploeser's speech on November 11 and the publication a fortnight later of the editorial titled "The Unwanted Battalion."

But a great deal more will have to be done by the returning Congress. All war veterans—the thousands who have been released from the armed services and the millions still to be released—must have the benefits and protection of honest and adequate LAWS, including a FULL YEAR'S MUSTERING-OUT PAY.

Men still had faults
And men will have them still,
He that hath none, and lives as angels do
Must be an angel.
—DILLON.

MIGHT be a good idea for wives to paste the above on their boudoir mirrors in order to aid them in being more tolerant of their mate's minor faults. Another good quotation for the same place is Madame de Stael's words about taking the world as it is and men as they are. This is not really our suggestion but comes from a subscriber who claims his wife is "intolerant" and "unreasonably critical." We're just trying to help this poor wretch out . . . "Tokyo, Japan, has a subway the same as New York," states a contemporary. Not quite the same as New York, Mister. The Tokyo subway is only six miles long . . . It was Aristotle who said: "It is best then for women to marry at the age of 18 and men at about 37; they thus will be at the height of their vigor at the time of marriage and will come simultaneously and at the right season to the period of life when they cease to beget children" . . . Too bad the manufacturers of steam automobiles did not persist until their product had been perfected. It seemed the steamer manufacturers had an excellent start with the Stanley, White and Doble cars. I always thought the steamers had many advantages.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Why didn't you quote as you always have on previous New Year's Day that inspiring poem beginning: "Give me a good digestion, Lord"? We missed it. A—An unforgiveable oversight. Here it is now. It is the famous prayer found in a pew in the Chester Cathedral, England. I hope it is not quoted too late for your family and yourself to recite in unison as a kind of New Year's resolution:

Give me a good digestion, Lord,
And also something to digest,
Give me a healthy body, Lord,
With a sense to keep it at its best.
Give me a healthy mind, Lord,
To keep the good and pure in sight
Which seeing sin is not appalled
But finds a way to set it right.
Give me a mind that is not bored,
That does not whimper, whine or sigh;
Don't let me worry over much
About the fussy thing called I.
Give me a sense of humor, Lord,
Give me the grace to see a joke,
To get some happiness from life
And pass it on to other folk.

BRIEFLY: Seems Olivia De Haviland aspires to be a comedienne. Hope she succeeds but in a recent film I saw, Olivia tried too hard to be funny. That's bad . . . The Germans keep talking about bombing England with rocket guns. This talk about bombing England with guns seems to be an admission the Nazis can no longer bomb that country effectively with planes. The secret weapon used in the air raid defense of England must be really something. No doubt we have the same thing on our Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Christmas Eve, 1943, was the 30th anniversary of the arrival in the United States of Rudolpho Alfonzo Raffaelo Pierre Filibert Guglielmi Di Valentina D' Aontonguolla who later became professionally known as Rudolph Valentino. It certainly doesn't seem that long ago, but it was 17 years ago, in 1926, that Valentino died . . . "Who said band leaders didn't make good husbands?" writes a Chicagoan. "Look at Betty Grable who married Band Leader Harry James and Alice Faye, wife of Band Leader Phil Harris. Aren't they both supremely happy?" (Note: Mrs. James and Mrs. Harris, as you say, are happily married and we hope they continue in that state. However, all authorities are agreed that you can't judge whether or not a man is a good husband until after at least six years of marriage.)

PLEASE NOTE: The Japs expect the United Nations to launch an attack on the island of Japan in two months or less and are preparing accordingly . . . "How old is your dog?" I asked a man who was strolling slowly along followed by a little bulldog. Said the man: "That dog is 21 years old and I have had him since he was three weeks old. Life is going to be different for me when I lose his companionship."

My Day — By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Friday—The other night in New York city, I went to a play by Rose Franken called "Doctors Disagree," which I believe she wrote some time ago. I think she must have been influenced a bit by Moliere, who put a little more business on the stage than is needed for the full flow of main ideas. I found "Doctors Disagree" an interesting play and we had a very enjoyable evening.

Yesterday, in the early evening, I attended the graduation exercises of a group of women belonging to the women's brigade of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. They have been taking Red Cross courses in home nursing, nurses' aid work and first aid, as well as doing a good deal of production work.

* * *

ALL OF THIS IS DONE as part of their civilian defense activity and that means many of these girls who work all day give much of their time to volunteer work evenings and on their days off. They sang a delightful and amusing song for me. One of their managers sang a song of his own composition, which might easily become one of our popular war time songs. It is called "On The Road To Tokyo," but he likes to call it "Let's Go," because that is the way the chorus begins.

In following up yesterday's column, I want to give you a creed which has been sent to me by the women of good will in Chicago:

* * *

"I HEREBY DEDICATE MYSELF to willing good in every human relationship.

"In my home, I will seek to create an atmosphere of understanding and good will toward other members of my own family and toward all members of the family of God.

"In my community I will use my influence for justice and fair play against all unfair discriminations arising from differences of race, creed, class or nationality.

"In my country, I will stand for just legislation and equal opportunity for every human being, which is the basis of true democracy."

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8—Those astute gas station operators who backed Dana Andrews in his career to the tune of $5500 for singing lessons and dramatic coaching certainly turned a good deal for themselves.

The two gentlemen, named John Wardlaw and Stanley Twomey, became interested in Dana when he was a "grease monkey" and took a chance he would some day pay them back with interest. He has—and how!

Phyllis Brooks

Dana has just had the 20th Century - Fox part of his contract renewed (the other half belongs to Sam Goldwyn), and by the completion of 1944 Dana will have paid back his sponsors around $25,000. With the gas station business what it is today—that ain't coupons. His first on the new 20th contract is "A Wing and a Prayer" with Don Ameche, after he finishes "The Purple Heart."

THE NEW Stephen Longstreet book, "Nine Lives With Grandfather," comes out in March, but before it hits the stands Edward Small is planning to buy it. Longstreet, who wrote "The Gay Sisters," "The Last Man Comes Home" and other novels, says it is the story of his own grandfather, who was a fabulous character. Eddie is nothing if not ambitious. He would like to borrow Monty Woolley for the grandfather role. In fact, he has already discussed the possibilities of getting my friend Monty.

PHYLLIS BROOKS will have to get that mink coat out of storage and doll up in her good clothes again, for she has a merry little contract coming her way. Buddy De Sylva is so pleased with her in "Lady in the Dark" he is giving her a term deal. I don't wonder, for she is really a glamour gal plus in this movie. Phyllis came back from the South Seas with no place to live, so maybe this sign on a Hollywood apartment house may interest her. In big red letters the sign says: "Apartment for Rent. But do not apply unless you have the pull to get the owner of this building a speaking part in a movie at a major studio."

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8—There is a book called "A Pictorial History of the Movies," by Deems Taylor and (in smaller letters) Bryant Hale and Marcellene Peterson, in which there are a number of photographs telling the complete story of motion pictures. There used to be a sign at the Fox studio saying, "One Picture Is Worth a Thousand Words," but soon after the coming of the talkies that sign disappeared. These pictures in this "history of the movies" book practically speak for themselves, and so it's going to be difficult for me to tell you about those pictures in words.

Gloria Swanson

BACK IN 1907 Vitagraph made a movie out of "Romeo and Juliet," and the photograph discloses Vitagraph's trade mark on the canopy of Juliet's bed. In those days every film company had their trade mark in every scene so that rival companies wouldn't steal their film, then a practice.

The Clark Gable of his day was Francis X. Bushman, and he won an early movie contest as the "Most Handsome Man." You may have heard that Wallace Beery started in pictures as "Swedie," a maid, and this book presents a photograph of him in "drags," the costume in which he played his roles.

An important step forward in motion pictures, the book calls it "Griffith Turns a Page," was the work of D. W. Griffith. And a still photograph of "Intolerance" shows that Griffith's lighting and composition can hold its own today.

All of the big Griffith players are represented in photos from their pictures, and they all referred to their director as Mr. Griffith. Even today Lillian Gish calls him "Mr. Griffith."

GRIFFITH, on invitation of the British government, made a propaganda picture called "Hearts of the World." It was filmed both in England and at the front in France, and a scene shows a young English actor, Noel Coward, playing a bit.

Gloria Swanson, having graduated from extra roles and a bathing suit, is disclosed in all her beauty in her initial starring role in "Male and Female," which was the screen version of James M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton." The title was changed because the average moviegoer might believe he was going to see a Navy picture.

Valentino come into his own, and in the early Twenties the first feature length all-color picture was produced, "The Glorious Adventure," but movie audience's weren't ready for it. Then came the screen's first actor, George Arliss, to be labelled "Mr." in his billing. There is also a photograph of Clark Gable when he was just another dress extra, and he looks much better and handsomer today as Maj. Clark Gable.

Boston After Dark

ONE SCHOOL OF THOUGHT has it that Pravda's blast at O.W.W. (One World Wendell) was a bit of devious politics, in spite of the seeming force with which Cousin Joe's blurb-sheet set Wendell on his heels for daring to express an opinion on Baltic affairs . . . Far-sighted Pravda, realizing that ol' O.W.W. is practically a fan of Stalin's and couldn't be dislodged from his position by anything less than a direct hit from a block-buster, saw a chance to strengthen O.W.W. by simulating a disagreement with him—the only G. O. P. presidential prospect who is a sure-bet to be all-out for internationalism . . . Browder and the other "American" comrades would not be fooled, and Americans who are for America first might temper their dislike for O.W.W. under the delusion that he and Cousin Joe are merely good pals instead of political bedmates . . . Of course, the reasoning does give Pravda and Boss Joe credit for being indeed devious. But that's the talk, reasonable or not . . . Meantime, protests of denial to the contrary, one hears reiterations of the report that Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts has been tapped for second place to Willkie's on that G. O. P. presidential ticket . . . And not been tapped only . . . Lev, say the stories, has accepted.

IN THE WAKE OF THE HOLIDAYS comes amazing evidence that a great deal of money changed hands right here in Boston on the wager that the war in Europe would have been finished by Christmas (1943) . . . Each day one gets sworn assertions that this fellow or that lost this amount or that, and most of it in the thousands, on backing the belief that the Nazis were licked . . . Jockey Willie Canning, who has been riding in Mexico City, is hopping bells in a Boston hotel . . . And prominent Greater Bostonians who are heading south of the border for vacations are Dr. and Mrs. Martin Spellman of Chestnut Hill and Mr. and Mrs. George Mahoney of Newton Centre . . . Mr. Mahoney has large holdings in Mexico City, and the trip will not be for pleasure only, in his case.

MIAMI BEACH is so overcrowded, we hear, that the folks are getting in one another's way, and hair . . . . (Sour grapes?) . . . Frank Sawyer, the taxi magnate, made a hit with an old customer who was caught in a down town deluge of rain in his second day of convalescence from influenza . . . Frank was appealed to by 'phone to get one of his own taxis to transport the customer from a hotel lobby to his home . . . A cab was located at the distant North Station, and the driver turned down seven prospective fares who tried to hail him en route to the suffering pedestrian.

WOULD IT BE Ensign Walter Seaver, boss of the Lenox; Chauncey Depew Steele, boss of the Copley-Plaza; Jack Francis of the Ritz, Bob Appleton of the Bradford, Charles "Buster" Annis of the Copley Sq. or Emil Coulon of the Vendome, Arki-Yarkensonne of the Fensgate—or who?—as the town's choice for the most popular hotel manager in Boston? . . . Hotel bosses have never been esteemed so highly . . . They rank with Pullman ticket sellers and night club headwaiters these days as the desirable persons to know . . . If Deputy Supt. James Sheehan would enjoy being interviewed, this department would suit its convenience (afternoon or evening) to his at any time . . . As the deputy is on the go inspecting divisions from morn until night (and later) this seems the logically sure fashion in which to contact him . . . For a ranking racket-buster, very little biographical stuff on the Sheehan man has appeared in print, it seems.

AND NOW IT WILL probably swing to zero or lower . . . The mercury, we mean . . . There are less than 90 days to April . . . Remember that April blizzard of a few seasons ago? . . . Sunshine and light, that's us!

Boston Marine Tells of Tarawa

In the Oakland, Cal., Naval Hospital, Pvt. William Kerr Vincent, 23, South Boston Marine, told today of his escape from death in the hail of Japanese artillery fire off Tarawa.

Vincent was aboard a landing barge, according to a Marine Corps public relations report, when a Jap shell hit the bow of the craft.

"Shrapnel caught 10 of us," Vincent said. "The coxswain immediately lowered the landing ramp and we hit the water. Crews in other boats picked us up and took us to a hospital ship."

Vincent made his home with a brother, Archibald, in West Third st., South Boston.

East Boston JVA Fetes Soldiers

Thirty-six members of the Junior Victory Army's East Boston Fun Band took the road Sunday afternoon for Camp Edwards, where they presented a show before an estimated audience of 700 servicemen.

Arriving late in the afternoon, the Fun Band members first visited the servicemen's club. After eating at the regular mess hall, the children put on their show at 6:30. The performance lasted one hour and a half.

Three new members have joined the Fun Band in recent weeks, Grace Cipoletta, secretary, has reported to headquarters. They are Adeline Gavalieri, a talented young singer; Vincent Collura, who plays solos on his electric guitar, and Miss Estelle Gatti, a hula-hula dancer.

Following the show, the boys and girls went back by bus to Station 7, where they disbanded for the evening. Officer Albert F. Varner, director of the JVA's Junior Police Fun Band, led the troup on its camp tour, most recent of several performances that the Fun Band has given before servicemen in recent weeks.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

McKeever to Aid Leahy At Least for Duration

By JACK CONWAY

SOUTHBEND, Ind., Jan. 8—Ed McKeever, Frank Leahy's right eye in Notre Dame football, told me he will not make any decision about his football future until after the war ends. He declared it would be silly for him to even think of coaching Boston College, Northwestern or any of the other colleges with which his name has been mentioned until victory has been gained by the Allied nations.

"For all I know," said Ed, "I may be drafted myself. I like the present football setup at Notre Dame and I am going right ahead planning for our 1944 campaign.

Ed McKeever

"I consider Boston one of the finest sport centers in the United States, and I am always interested in hearing about its football, baseball and hockey prospects. The greatest reception any team I have been with ever received was the one accorded to the Boston College team that won over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl. Weather conditions were miserable at the time we reached Boston, but there were nevertheless thousands of people on hand to greet us.

★ ★ ★

Asks About Pros

"How do you think professional football will go in Boston?"

I told McKeever I thought the game was ready to click. The people of Boston and New England have displayed much interest in the playing of the Bears, Redskins and other professional teams in recent years.

McKeever believes a sports minded city like Boston can support college football on Saturday and the professionals on Sunday.

"In Boston, it is a question of giving the public the best in athletics and you do not have to worry about patronage," declared McKeever. "I am sure that if Boston College, Harvard and the new professional club all turned out first class teams that each of them would have his followers.

N. E. at Notre Dame

Jim Flanagan of West Roxbury, Notre Dame end who showed such fine form last season, accompanied me on a tour around the Notre Dame campus. There has been very little snow here this winter, and it was easy to get around the vast stretches of land between the various college buildings.

We found Ira Jevelekian, former Boston College backfield star, now a Navy athletic specialist, sending a group of V-12 students through a stiff course of drills. Later Jevelekian talked football with me.

"I was in Boston during the past fall on a Sunday when Eddie Doherty played quarterback for Boston College," said the former backfield star. "I think Doherty is a better quarterback than Angelo Bertelli or Johnny Lujack. He cannot throw passes as well as Bertelli, but his handling of the ball and direction of a team is perfect.

"I have been at Notre Dame for more than six months and like it very much out here. There is a fine spirit among the V-12 groups I have under my direction. When the war ends, we shall have more great athletes than ever."

Bobby Roberton, all-America at Southern California, is also a director in the athletic program at Notre Dame.

"Roberton almost beat us in California," said Frank Leahy. "He was a brilliant football player."

Harry Glover who starred for Tulane in the Rose Bowl, is also helping to get Notre Dame's 4200 Navy trainees fit physically.

Learning to Swim

For those of us who have lived along the New England seacoast and watched thousands of youngsters take advantage of our wonderful beaches, it is difficult to realize there are many American boys who cannot swim.

I saw hundreds of Navy trainees getting lessons in swimming at the Rockne Memorial Gymnasium.

Tommy Mills, who played football with Rockne and who at one time was athletic director at Georgetown, is in charge of the big pool.

"The Navy has sent expert swimming instructors to Notre Dame," said Tommy. "They are teaching swimming to boys from inland places who never learned to swim. There is also advanced training for other boys. They are taught how to swim under oil, and how to get away from a sinking ship. Our American boys are learning a new style of swimming."

Tommy asked me to remember him to Col. Dave Egan and to Arthur Duffy.

I met Mike Manzo of Medford, Notre Dame football player. He is a brother of Joe Manzo who was one of the best football players in the country a few years ago.

We visited the church on the campus, and stepped in through the doorway over which is inscribed, "for God, for Country, for Notre Dame." Inside there is an honor roll of Notre Dame men who have already died in World War II. There are 68 names on the list as the men of Notre Dame fight on all the battlefields of the world.

School Hockey Sets Wild Pace in Tourney

By JOHN AHERN

Late this afternoon when the Bay State loop finishes up its series at the Arena the greatest schoolboy hockey parade in the memory of the oldest schoolboy sports writer will have come to an end.

And what a parade that has been!

Starting two days after Christmas the schoolboy fans—and the writers, too—have been hopping the good old "Boston El" from the Arena to the Skating Club and back again trying to keep in step with the wild pace set by the scholastic puck chasers and somehow, or other, managing to do it.

First of all came the so-called Christmas holidays with all the leagues holding two sessions in one week; some in the morning, some in the afternoon and the others at night and at the end of the week the fans and the Arena management were as affable as life-long friends.

G. B. I. Standing

	W	L	T	Pts	Goals For	Goals Agst
Medford	5	0	0	10	13	4
Melrose	4	1	0	8	28	4
Ridge	3	2	0	6	11	11
Arlington	3	2	0	6	19	9
Belmont	2	3	0	4	11	23
Stoneham	2	3	0	4	12	13
Newton	1	4	0	2	8	20
Camb. Latin	0	5	0	0	6	24

The Bay State loop started the ball rolling Monday night with the first of their four game series and the usual swell hockey was enjoyed by all, especially when Needham rose to the heights and beat Watertown in what was termed the "upset of the year."

Then the Eastern Mass. gang staged their first series for the week the next day and Hudson downed Dedham in as nifty a game as has been seen all year. But the game of the night—that night—was the Natick-Somerville clash that saw Natick win in the last six seconds of play when Mike Clasby hopped out of the penalty box, picked up a loose puck in the center zone and soloed in to win the game just before the bell tolled.

Then the big league—the GBI—started and as usual there was an "upset of the year" for that night. But the biggest thrill of that particular evening was when Belmont held Melrose to a tie until the last minute of play when Jack Garrity, as usual, broke away and sunk the winning marker. Had Belmont come through that night instead of the Medford Mustangs, there would have been a six place tie for first place—something unheard of in schoolboy hockey.

EQUALS RECORD

On Saturday, when the GBI met again, Leo Troy, erstwhile Melrose wing, set a schoolboy record by scoring four goals and the quartet all came within four minutes. Quite a record! But it was equalled the following Monday by Paul Cronin, who was playing his last game for English High before entering service, two days later.

It would have been a nice record to take into service with him even if he were only co-author of the honor. But things happen fast these days and that record was shattered last night by another Melroser, Bob Lloyd, who beat Belmont with five beautiful goals for the new record.

In the interim the Private Schools held a conference for themselves at the Skating Club and Middlesex managed to squeeze by that one for the title by taking Belmont Hill in another one of those last minute thrillers. Then the Prep Schools, not to be outdone by their younger brothers held a slugfest of their own, also at the Skating Club. And the "piece de resistance" of that one was Exeter's uphill struggle to come from behind twice—once against Pomfret and then against Andover to tie for the mythical crown with Choate.

During the entire fortnight of action more schoolboy hockey was played than ever before but from the way it went over we'll bet that the next vacation (?) in February will even better that.

ICE CA 'PETS' AS ICE 'PICS'—The Olympics, according to reports, love their new line comprising Mary Bovee, Ginnie Walter and Betty Brown of the Ice-Capades. No wonder the Pics are good. It is too bad the beauty line can't move on to the Arena tonight.

Pics Move to Hold Win Streak Intact

Hago Harrington's riddled Olympic ranks try to keep their nine-game winning streak intact at the Boston Arena tonight and tomorrow evening when they play host to a reinforced Philadelphia Falcons outfit.

This is the second nine-game streak the Pics have put together this season. Their first winning surge was halted by the New York Rovers, who defeated them 6-5 in the tenth game of the season. Tonight their string will be in danger again as they take the ice with many of their stars missing. Guy Labrie and Russ Kopak, two key men, are in Toronto with the Bruins. Pat Powers is still at home in Canada. A bombshell exploded in the local ranks this morning when Dr. Tom Kelley announced that Clarence Schmidt may be through with hockey for good. The Williams, Minn., youth was turned down by the Army because of a bad kidney and he will now go to a hospital for observation.

Philadelphia, on the other hand, is loaded with new talent. Redvers Mackenzie brings to Boston a new goaler, Red Henry, two new defensemen, John Baby and Ted Garven, as well as four new forwards, Bud Dodds, Norm Grinke, Bill Stewart and Leo Gasparini. Gasparini played for the Falcons at the close of last season and he was a sensation.

To date Boston has enjoyed a field day with the Philadelphia entry. They have licked the Falcons five times running and shut them out on three occasions. The only game between the two rivals in Boston resulted in a 10-0 victory for the Hub clubmen.

Egan to Join B's in Toronto

Eager at the prospects of having Pat Egan, newly acquired defenseman, in their lineup against Toronto Maple Leafs tomorrow night in Toronto, the Boston Bruins, led by Mgr. Art Ross, left Boston at 7 o'clock last night. Only eleven players made the trip since Don Gallinger, who went home Wednesday, will join the team in Toronto for what may be his final game of the season.

The squad, with Egan in Bruin spangles and wearing Eddie Shore's old No. 2 jersey, will practice in the Maple Leaf Gardens this afternoon at 4 o'clock, their first turn on skates since the 6-4 win over Chicago in Boston last Tuesday.

Capt. Dit Clapper and Egan will start at defense for the Bruins, with Guy Labrie, rookie from the Olympics, as their substitute until Johnny Crawford rejoins the team. The lines will remain the same, Bill Cowley centering for Herbie Cain and Buzz Boll; Gallinger pivoting for Art Jackson and Bill Calladine, and Russ Kopak centering for Busher Jackson and Al Palazzari. Bep Guidolin, ailing left winger on the second line, will remain inactive until next Saturday's game at the Garden when Egan will make his local debut.

Hollett To Play?

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 8 (AP)—Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings finally caught up by telephone with William (Flash) Hollett, whom the Detroit club obtained from the Boston Bruins two days ago in exchange for Martin (Pat) Egan. Both are defensemen.

"I talked to Hollett who is in Toronto," declared Adams. "He says he has some grievances with the Boston club in connection with the deal, but I think maybe we can fix things up. Anyway, he made the call and I'm quite sure he's interested in staying in the National Hockey League."

Egan will join Boston today at Toronto. If Hollett decides to join Detroit, he could arrive here in time for Sunday's game with Chicago.

EAGLETS UPSET NORWOOD, 1-0, AT ARENA

BOSTON ARENA, Jan. 8—In what could be easily termed the upset of the year," Boston College High marked up its first victory in two years of league competition by nipping Norwood, 1 to 0, in the opening game of the Bay State Loop's series at the Arena yesterday.

In the other game on the first half of the program, altham squeezed by Watertown, 2-1.

After a scoreless first period that featured plenty of fast hockey, Frank Igo took a goalmouth pass set up by Walt MacDonald and beat Tommy Rogers with a nifty shot that was too tough to handle.

Instead of playing it safe and protecting the lead, the Eaglets went all out to increase the lead. Although the junior Eagles didn't score, the strategy worked as the pressure was on Norwood and it couldn't score the equalizer.

Waltham took the lead early in the game when Bob Driscoll, the football star, set up Harry Tapley on a nice passout and Tapley sank it for the first score.

In the second period the same combination teamed up on the same play and Tapley putted in a 10-footer.

Watertown's first line had been slamminf away at the Waltham voalie and finally clicked on a three-way pass play, Dupuis to Folino to Costello.

Chicago Detective New Bowling Champ

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—Rudy Boedecker, a Chicago police detective and crack bowler, is the nation's new champion kegler for three game league series this season.

Boedecker posted games of 289, 266 and 254 for a 809 total in the Randolph league, beating the season's previous high of 797 rolled by Bud Wright of Chicago two weeks ago. Boedecker's series total was the first 800 in Chicago in four years of league competition.

MILLS WITH TIGERS

DETROIT, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers return to the two-coach system in 1944 with the signing today of Arthur Mills, one-time National League pitcher, as the secon dassistant under Manager Steve O'Neill. Last summer Detroit had one coach, Al Vincent, who will be back.

Louis Finds 2 Contenders

CAMP BLANDING, Fla., Jan. 8 (AP)—Sergt. Joe Louis, duration heavyweight boxing champion, believes he has found two postwar contenders for his crown in a tour of Army camps.

However, Louis modestly parried the question whether they would be good enough to face him.

"I don't know how good I'll be," he said.

The two hopefuls were not identified by Louis. He said he ran across one of the fighters at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the other at an Army post he could not recall. He admitted he saw possible competition, but added:

"They'll need a couple of years, though."

Hoop Game Out At Brigham Young

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Brigham Young University Athletic Council voted to discontinue intercollegiate basketball for the duration of the war.

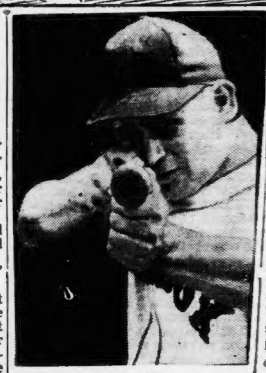
Prof. Ariel Ballif, chairman, said not enough players were available, because of losses to military services, to field a team.

Only University of Utah among Utah's three major schools plans a 1944 basketball season.

Harvard Cancels Game With Wesleyan

MIDDLETOWN, Ct., Jan. 8 (AP)—Wesleyan University announced that its basketball game with Harvard, scheduled to be played here March 11, had been cancelled by the latter school "because of transportation limitations."

Harvard also cancelled a game scheduled against Trinity College at Hartford this week.



JIMMY FOX
Draft Board Calls

Draft Board Calls Foxx

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8 (AP)—Jimmy Foxx has been called up by his draft board to take his Army physical examination Jan. 17.

Foxx, 36, has been a salesman for an oil and leather goods concern here since he quit baseball two years ago after a long major league career with the Philadelphia Athletics, Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs.

Browns Infielder Enlists

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Jan. 8 (AP)—Third Baseman Jesse Newman, property of the St. Louis Browns, enlisted in the Air Corps at Albrook Field.

Newman presently is manager of the Diablo Heights team, leading the Canal Zone League. His last season in organized ball was in 1941 when he played with St. Paul and Toledo of the American Ass'n, batting .282 in 111 games.

Rival Pastors

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 8 (AP)—Two ordained ministers opposed each other here last night as Arkansas' Razorbacks whipped Texas Christian, 71-50, in their Southwest Conference basketball opener.

The preachers did all right, too. The Rev. Bill Flynt, a Baptist, sank 18 points for Arkansas, and the Rev. Joe Wick, a Christian pastor, counted nine points for T. C. U.

Stagg, Graham Share Honors

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—A veteran football coach and a young Northwestern University athlete will share the spotlight at a doubleheader basketball show at Chicago Stadium tonight.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, 81-year-old grid coach at the college of the Pacific, named by the National Ass'n of Football Writers as coach of the year," will be presented with a miniature football from the "Order of the C," Chicago's Lettermen's Ass'n.

Otto Graham, the Wildcats' All-America halfback, named the Western Conference's most valuable grid player, will receive the Chicago Tribune silver trophy between halves of the Northwestern-Wisconsin game. He also is a star on the Wildcats' quintet.

ENTRIES POUR IN FOR SILVER SKATES DERBY

With an eye on the ninth renewal of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Silver Skates Derby at the Boston Garden, Jan. 30, many of New England's foremost performers will compete in the Rhode Island speed skating championships at Providence, tomorrow.

Competitors are coming from Worcester, North Adams, Fitchburg and other points throughout New England. After vieing in this meet, they will point for the Silver Skates Derby, which is the biggest event of its kind in this area.

Meanwhile, entries continue to pour into the committee and it's likely that more than 400 performers will compete when the final tally is made. Many headliners from past Silver Skates shows have already filed their blanks, indicating this is an event worth entering.

However, deadline for entries is drawing near and it's advisable to file now for the closing date is midnight, one week from Thursday.

Post entries will not be accepted in any class except for the special servicemen's race.

In this case, an exception has been made for many soldiers, sailors and marines have no way definitely of knowing whether they will be here on that date.

Furthermore, there may be servicemen wanting to compete, but will not arrive in this section until after the closing date. In other words, men of the armed forces can enter right up to Jan. 30, the day of the meet.

But civilians are urged to enter immediately and avoid last-minute difficulties.

Following are the latest Derby entrants:

Robert Flynn, Arlington; Frank Reynolds, Rowley; Richard Enquit, Watertown; Raymond Melanson, Cambridge; Joseph Botelho, East Cambridge; Connie Samsel, Walpole; Stanley Josima, Brighton; Milton Davidson, Boston; James M. Smith, Cambridge; Connie Rutledds, Winthrop; Alfred J. Cramen, South Boston and Virgil Parent, South Boston.

1943 SKATE QUEEN—Jane Broadhurst of the Bay State Club who won the Midget title in the Silver Skates derby last year and is entered this year as a juvenile class speedster and hopes to win another title.

Black Badge 2-1 Favorite

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 8 (AP)—A dozen promising 3-year-olds compete in the $5000 added Hialeah Stakes at Hialeah Park today while owners study their performance with the rich Flamingo Stakes and Kentucky Derby in mind.

Fans 12,726 strong turned out for the colorful track's opening yesterday, when Herbert M. Woolf's Adulator won the featured $5000 added Inaugural Handicap by half a length. An opening day mutuels record was hung up as $635,758 passed into the wickets.

Their first year of racing behind them and possibie turf glory ahead, the youngsters will dash six furlongs in the fifth race feature. This is a preview for the $15,000 Flamingo, a mile and a furlong contest scheduled for Feb. 26.

A. Hirschberg's Black Badge, with Jockey N. k. Pierson up, rated as the 2-to-1 overnight favorite The black cold won easily at Tropical Park Dec. 18, with Pierson riding.

M. B. Goff's Skytracer, winner of two recent victories at Tropical, and Stymie, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' entry, are optional choices. In Stymie's favor is the fact that the jockey will be Ted Atkinson, leading with 30 wins in the short winter season, four of them yesterday. Greentree Stable's Mouse Hole, Son of Granville and Miss Mouse, are rated high.

Other entries are Aloraye, Challenge Me, Augustina, Good Bid, Fifth, Blue Sash, Quick Draw, and Brief Sigh.

Hawks Count On Karakas

CHICAGO, Jan. 8 (AP)—With their old-time goalie, Mike Karakas, back in the fold, the Chicago Blackhawks will attempt to apply the brakes to their five-game losing streak in the National Hockey League tomorrow night at Detroit.

A Chicago win would be the first on Detroit ice in 15 games. Karakas at the age of 32 was welcomed back by the Hawks after being bounced by them four years ago.

The Hawks obtained Karakas from Providence, where he had played since Dec. 26, 1939, for a sum believed to be in excess of $7500. Along with the check, Bill Tobin, president of the Hawks, sent Providence Rookie Goalie Reex Highton and young Gordon Buttrey, forward. Highton, who is 19, goes on option, subject to a 24-hour recall in case Karakas is drafted. Buttery was released outright.

Texas Giants

LUBBOCK, Tex., Jan. 8 (AP)—If Texas Tech doesn't have the nation's tallest collegiate basketball team now, it probably will when the members of this year's Raider quintet "grow up."

For, while they average 6 feet, four inches in height, the 1944 Tech regulars average only 17 years in age—and have three years of collegiate eligibility left.

Beau Jack Wins Verdict

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—Beau Jack had to go all out down the stretch to take a 10-round decision from Lulu Costantino in Madison Square Garden after absorbing a boxing lesson in the early going that at times made the lightweight champion look like an awkward amateur.

A 1 to 4 underdog in the betting against the one-time shoeshine boy from Georgia, Costantino danced all around him in the early heats, scored with slicing left jabs and had the Jumping Jack missing punches by as much as three feet as he held an edge over the New York version of the 135-pound king for seven of the 10 rounds.

Then, in the eighth, Jack leaped in with a smashing hook that caught the local larruper with his guard half down and snapped his head back and from there to the end he took the play, although in the tenth, Lulu met the Beau head-on and fought him to the wire.

On the Associated Press score card, Jack had five rounds to four for Costantino and one even.

The officials were split on the verdict, with Referee Eddie Josephs giving Costantino the fight, 8 rounds to 2. The judges, Bob Cunningham and Marty Monroe, voted for Jack, 5 rounds to 4, with one even.

To a highly-partisan crowd of 14,876, who opened the 1944 Garden beak-busting season by chipping in to a gross gate of $43,161, Lulu's showing was as entertaining as the snappy floor show in a Broadway night club. The downtown thumper set his pattern for the fight from the word go, stepping around fast, sidestepping the bouncing Beau's usual boring-in charges and jabbing away himself as he made the champ miss a lot more punches than he landed.

Write Your Congressman Protesting Neglect of Discharged Veterans

Date _____

HON. _____
MEMBER OF CONGRESS,
CAPITOL BUILDING,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

I call on you to support legislation that will provide mustering out pay, clothing and hospitalization facilities for discharged service men immediately upon their return to civilian life.

I wish to register my protest against the neglect of wounded, disabled and mentally sick men of the armed forces who have been discharged without any provision for their care and treatment.

I petition you, as my representative in Congress, to do all in your power to see that those who fought and bled to preserve the American way of life will be assured the necessities of life upon their discharge from the armed forces.

This is urgent! Please act now!

Sincerely,

Name _____

Survivors

Feeling fine after being tossed into the Atlantic when the Navy patrol ship St. Augustine sank in a collision off Cape May, N. J., are (l. to r.) Walter Copley, Fall River; Stanley Matecki, Trenton, N. J.; James Phillips, East Tawas, Mich.; Warren Harris, Danvers, and John Christofforo, Providence. The patrol ship was once the $1,500,000 yacht of Barbara Hutton, five-and-ten heiress. (Story on Page 5.)
